

JUNCTION WILL NOT BE USED TO ABRIDGE LIBERTY

Statement by Attorney General Daugherty Issued Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The junction obtained in Chicago against striking shopmen by the government, Attorney General Daugherty said today will not be used to abridge personal liberty or freedom of speech or of the press. But, "freedom of speech and freedom of press does not mean those mediums may be used to incite riots or murders."
The attorney general also declared that the injunction had not been obtained to force men to work nor was it a move to prevent strikes. These statements made in newspaper correspondence followed earlier declarations by a white house spokesman after today's cabinet meeting that President Harding felt the injunction would not endanger constitutional rights of the men on strike nor of their citizens. But, it was added the Chicago injunction proceedings would be followed up with the determination of preventing interference with transportation, just how far the government would be obliged to go with prosecutions against individuals the white house spokesman said, could only be determined by events. It was indicated that no activities in connection with the strike outside of court matters were now in progress.

Attorney General Daugherty declared there would be no objection to the department of justice meetings of union men to perform any of their functions "that do not interfere with interstate commerce or otherwise violate the law."

The attorney general expressed the belief that the strike situation would "quiet down this week."

Press Approves Course

The great majority of the press—about 90 per cent.—that portion of the "respectable outstanding press," Mr. Daugherty declared, approved the government's course. The press, he added, performed a very helpful service to the American people.

Responding to a question the attorney general said he thought a court would construe advocacy of picketing as being in violation of Judge Wilkerson's temporary restraining order.

Reports to the department of justice, he asserted, showed the situation over the country to be "quiet; very comfortable."

William F. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, one of the striking rail unions, declared in an address before a mass meeting of strikers that no change had been made in the methods of conducting the strike, so far as his union was concerned.

Mr. Johnston characterized the Chicago injunction as being the "big noise" and said he would defy Attorney General Daugherty or anyone else to interfere with me and my fellows meeting to discuss matters of mutual interest.

MUST OBSERVE THE STATE LAW

Automobiles Must Not Park Near Fire Hydrants—Distance In Which Cars May Park Is Painted.

Owners of automobiles who have persistently violated the parking ordinance forbidding parking cars within twenty-five feet of the fire hydrants will in the future find no excuse for not knowing where the hydrants are, or the distance which they may park their cars.

Fire Chief Sam Hunt is having the hydrants painted and the zone in which cars must not park marked by painting the curb. Hereafter if you park in "forbidden" territory you will have to find a new excuse other than "not knowing."

There is a state law against parking within twenty-five feet of a fire hydrant. The reason is plainly manifest. In case of fire and need of use of the hydrant much valuable time would be lost in removing any obstruction.

RESCUERS EXPECT TO BE ABLE TO REACH MINERS BY THURSDAY

It is Believed That Some of
The Men are Still Alive

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSON, Calif., Sept. 5.—Some time Thursday the 46 imprisoned miners in the Argonaut mine will be reached, it was generally expected today. It also was believed that some at least of the men who were trapped under ground by a fire and falling rock nine days ago are still alive as a report yesterday that answering signals had been heard by a member of one of the rescuing crews was followed by others in the same tenor today.

The rescue crew working from the 3600 foot level of the adjoining Kennedy mine toward the Argonaut, finished a detour around a virgin rock obstruction and today reached one of the old tunnels connecting the two mines. This tunnel was open to the extent of admitting men to work along muck and rock will have to be taken out to allow the passage of wheelbarrows and compressed air and water pipes.

After traversing 353 feet of this tunnel, the rescue crew will be ready to cut upward 75 feet to the 4200 foot level of the Argonaut. This work is expected to progress rapidly. The other rescue crew working from the 3900 foot level in the Kennedy mine, will then progress to cutting thru 141.7 feet of quartz and other rock.

CHANGE IN MEAT MARKET FIRM

C. E. Segner Becomes Partner of W. F. Widmayer—Has Been Engaged in Inspection Work With Government

Announcement was made yesterday by W. F. Widmayer that C. E. Segner had become associated with him in his West State street meat market. Mr. Segner has already entered upon his duties and will be actively identified in the conduct of the business.

The Widmayer market is one of the oldest and best known firms in the city. It was established over half a century ago by Mr. Widmayer's father and Leopold Wiegand in the building in which it is now located.

Following Mr. Wiegand's retirement from the firm it was conducted by C. H. Widmayer, the present proprietor's father. At his death the son succeeded him and has since conducted the business.

Mr. Widmayer has spent all his life in Jacksonville, except for a few years when he was connected with one of the large packing firms and was located in the west. He knows the meat business from top to bottom and has been most successful in his business.

The new member of the firm, C. E. Segner has been located at the plant of the Jacksonville Packing company for the past three years in the meat inspection department, representing the government. He has been associated for the past seven years with the government inspection bureau.

During the world war Mr. Segner saw service overseas and has been actively identified since locating here with the local organizations of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion. Prior to that he saw service in the regular army with the 14th Cavalry.

Mr. Segner is thoroughly familiar with the meat business and expects to take an active part in the management of the market. He has made many friends since coming to Jacksonville who will wish him success in his new business venture.

BISHOP FALLOWS DIED AT HOME IN CHICAGO TUESDAY

Noted Preacher, Soldier, Author, Educator Passes Away

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Bishop Samuel Fallows, presiding bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church famous as preacher, soldier, author and lecturer, died at 4:30 o'clock this morning at the residence after an illness of slightly less than a month.

Bishop Fallows' death, a shock to the religious world, especially, but a cause of sorrow throughout civilized humanity, was unexpected in spite of his advanced age. He was approaching his 87th birthday.

The bishop contracted pneumonia last winter and to that was attributed the beginning of his fatal illness. Last spring, he went to California where he was able to recuperate.

He did not return to Chicago until August 14, hopeful of regaining his old vigor and resuming his varied activities which had made him one of the most widely known national figures.

The long overland trip, however, drained his strength and the following day he was reported ill of exhaustion. On the next day, he was reported improving and his physician then expressed the belief that the bishop would entirely recover.

With the bishop during his illness was his daughter, Alice, and his son, Edward Fallows of New York.

The improvement continued and no untoward turn was expected. The son returned to New York yesterday.

Following the departure of Edward Fallows, the bishop at noon yesterday suffered a relapse which was seen to be a critical stage. He then sank gradually until the end came peacefully this morning.

The daughter was the only relative at the bishop's side when death ended the magnificent career of more than 60 years. The bishop's personal physician, Dr. W. S. White, and two nurses also were at the bedside.

Besides the daughter, Alice Katherine Fallows, who resided with her father, the bishop is survived by two sons, Edward H. Fallows, an attorney of New York City and Major Charles S. Fallows, of Saratoga, Calif., and a Mayor of San Francisco.

Bishop Fallows' wife, Lucia Bethia Huntington, died in 1916.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at St. Paul's church.

The body will lie in state from 9 a. m. until the hour of the services with a guard of honor composed of civil war comrades of the bishop. The Grand Army of the Republic and the American Legion, both will be represented at the funeral, arrangements for which are being made by Gen. Charles G. Dawes, formerly director of the national budget at Washington.

The body will be taken to Hadley, Mass., for burial beside the bishop's wife. A memorial service will be held at the grave.

PLACARD PRIVATE HOUSES IN CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Flaming scarlet placards were pasted on the doors of two private homes today by Health Commissioner Bundesen after two young men who resided in them had fled from a county hospital where they had been confined for the treatment of disease.

The move came as part of Dr. Bundesen's campaign to enforce a single standard of treatment for both those found to be diseased and those found to be diseased being segregated for treatment.

Those who try to evade treatment, he said, will be "dealt with like any other criminal for they are potential murderers."

DR. CHAPIN JOINS J. S. H. STAFF

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Chapin are now located at Jacksonville state hospital, where Dr. Chapin is serving as a member of the staff. Mrs. Chapin before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Decatur, former residents of Jacksonville. Mrs. Chapin will be glad to know that she is again living in this city.

Senate Considering Coal Legislation

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The senate, resumed consideration of the administration anti-profititeering coal bill today and approved without an amendment would limit life of the measure to six months. The bill was before the senate most of the day and leaders expected to get a vote on it tomorrow. The coal situation also was taken up by the cabinet at its regular meeting today from the standpoint of supply, conservation being given to the coal commission now contemplated as an organization to deal with the aftermath of the bituminous strike and the anthracite tieup.

Conservation in coal use which may be brought about it was indicated would be brought to the attention of the committee officially. The time limitation amendment to the anti-profititeering bill approved by the senate was offered by Senator Sutherland, Republican, West Virginia who also proposed another change under which the interstate commerce commission could not deny service to any person or corporation because of any prices fixed in contracts entered into before Sept. 1. This amendment was under discussion when the senate adjourned.

Cummins Is Opposed
Chairman Cummins of the interstate commerce committee and Senator Kellogg of Minnesota and Lenroot, Wisconsin, opposed the proposal arguing that it would annul the whole act. This was denied by Mr. Sutherland and Senator Dial, Democrat, South Carolina. They contended the government should not force annulment of contracts voluntarily entered into.

Under the terms of another amendment offered by Senator Kellogg and also approved without roll call the authority of the commission in the priority movement of coal carrying vessels on the great lakes and other inland waters.

Secretary Hoover expressed hope today that the anthracite supply this winter would be adequate to meet consumers' needs, but to assist in avoiding any shortage, it was explained that he was engaged in a study of methods to facilitate distribution by government cooperation.

LA FOLLETTE IS APPARENTLY EASY WINNER IN PRIMARY

(By The Associated Press)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 5.—Senator Robert LaFollette, of Madison, assumed a tremendous lead over W. A. Gafield of Waukegan for the Republican senatorial nomination with one fourth of the precincts in the state tabulated early this (Wednesday) morning.

In 646 precincts reporting out of 2,523 the senator reported a lead of 38,379 votes. In these precincts which represented partial returns from 61 of 71 counties in Wisconsin the vote stood: LaFollette, 67,988; Gafield, 29,699.

Governor John J. Blaine who is running on the LaFollette slate had a lead almost as large as that of the senator with one fourth of the state reported.

From the first precinct to be heard from to the time when one fourth of the state had reported Senator LaFollette always had a commanding lead and Governor Blaine was short distance behind him in the matter of popularities. With only a few scattered precincts reporting on the Democratic gubernatorial race early this morning Mayor A. A. Bentley of Lacrosse had assumed a small lead.

Information collected from the corps area commanders and the state adjutant generals will be furnished a special committee which will be assembled in Washington to study the re-organization of the national guard.

POLICE DO QUICK WORK IN BURGLARY

Arrest Two Cooled Youths Who Burglarized Schumm & Loner-gan's Place—Took Carton Containing 10,000 Cigarettes.

The police did some quick and effective work Tuesday afternoon when they arrested Simmie Knight and James A. Jackson two colored youths on the charge of burglarizing the billiard hall of Schumm and Loneragan and carrying away a carton containing 10,000 cigarettes valued at about $70.00.

The burglary occurred Sunday night, the boys gaining entrance to the basement thru a window in East Court street. The proprietors did not discover the broken window until Tuesday afternoon. Upon investigation of the basement where surplus stock is kept the loss of the carton of cigarettes was discovered.

Meanwhile it was reported to the police that a colored boy was trying to sell some cigarettes at Cannon's Lunch room and Harmon's Barber shop. A good description was given of the lad and soon afterward Patrolmen Baker and McGinnis arrested Knight at his home in Illinois avenue.

Knight was taken to the police station and given a grilling. He implicated James A. Jackson and told the police that Jackson was the one who did the actual burglarizing. Later Jackson was arrested by Chief Kiloran and Patrolman Williams. After he was taken to the station and questioned, Chief Kiloran said the confessed that both were implicated in the burglary.

The boys had hidden the carton of cigarettes on the site of the Widenham-Daub wells and they were found there by the police and returned to the owners. While Patrolmen Baker and McGinnis were on the hunt for Knight Schumm and Loneragan discovered their loss and notified the police.

Both of the boys have police records and Knight in particular, has given the police considerable trouble in the past few years. They are about 19 years of age. Both are being held at the station and probably will be given a hearing today.

NATIONAL GUARD TO BE PUT ON AN ECONOMICAL BASIS

Officials at Washing- ton Giving Matter Serious Thought

organization of the national guard on a more economical basis for its peace time development is being given serious consideration by members of the house sub-committee on military appropriations and by war department officials. Suggestions have been made that the maximum strength allowed by law be decreased from 800 men per senator and representative to 450 or 500 making a reduction in the organizations authorized peace strength of about 185,000 men.

In a letter to Representative Anthony, Kansas, chairman of the house sub-committee on military appropriations which was made public today Secretary Weeks pointed out two methods by which a new adjustment of the national guard might be accomplished by limiting appropriations and second would "prescribe a more reasonable requirement as to the prescribed peace strength."

Weeks said, "the latter is the fairest and best, moreover it is due to both the national guard and to the war department to know where they stand in view of the fact that the present peace strength was fixed solely by congress and being fearful of being misunderstood by the national guard, I hesitate to make any definite resolutions."

"The suggestion has been made from national guard sources that a peace time strength of 25,000 or 450 or 500 per senator and representative would be adequate at the present time," he added.

"The strength," the war secretary continued, "would permit of the completion of 18 infantry divisions, a proper proportion of cavalry troops the coast artillery companies and certain independent infantry and special troop units which are essential and necessary. I consider the 18 infantry divisions the keys to one of the structure and in my opinion nothing should be done which would interfere with their completion. It is possible that certain auxiliary units which are included in the division could be withdrawn such as the air squadron and the tank company in those cases where the state will have difficulty in maintaining units of this character. Questionnaires already have been sent out by the war department to the command generals of army corps areas and by the militia bureau to the state adjutant generals requesting their views on a new re-organization of the national guard."

Information collected from the corps area commanders and the state adjutant generals will be furnished a special committee which will be assembled in Washington to study the re-organization of the national guard.

ASSEMBLY OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS MARKING TIME

Austrian Question in Meantime is Occupying Time of Delegates

(By The Associated Press)
GENEVA, Sept. 5.—The assembly of the league of nations is marking time, the Austrian question occupying the attention of the delegates in special conferences. There are two clauses in the question.

The restoration of economic union in the greater part of the old Austro-Hungarian empire by accords between Austria-Hungary and Czechoslovakia, which the experts have been advocating, now finds supporters among the league delegations but it also encounters stout opposition principally from Italy on account of the political danger from such a measure.

The Earl of Balfour and M. Bourgeois are said to be agreed that the best thing to do is to make Austria's living alone and avoid conflict between her neighbors.

Their plan would involve co-operation of another source. Even the use of an international force to insure stable conditions has been suggested as part of it. The orators show little eagerness to take the platform contrary to the first two assemblies and it was necessary to adjourn the session of the league this afternoon for lack of speakers. M. Fasheri, of Albania, and Professor Gilbert Murray, representing South Africa, briefly addressed the assembly on the council's report of its work and the work of the secretariat in executing the decisions of the assembly but none of the others of the numerous speakers inscribed for the debate on the report was ready to face the audience which has shown rare coldness.

M. Fasheri's praise of the league for tranquillizing Albania failed to arouse the assembly from its apathy and he went back to his seat without receiving the slightest applause.

MORE ACTIVITY SHOWN IN OIL FIELD

Five Star Company Began Drilling Tuesday—Rhodes & Moore- head Closed Another Sub- Contract—Drilling Operations on Larger Scale Soon.

Operations are growing more active in the Rhodes-Moorehead oil field in this county. As noted in another column, additional leases were made a matter of record Tuesday. The Five Star Petroleum Co., which recently secured several tracts from Rhodes & Moorehead, spudded in on the Cleary farm Tuesday. This company has a good drilling outfit here and is to bring another one in within a very short time.

Wells are to be put down by this company speedily and located in such a relationship to the wells that Rhodes & Moorehead have drilled on their own account as will give the most information about the underlying structure.

A contract was signed yesterday with the Indiana Limestone & Gas Co., which will mean immediate work. Messrs. Rhodes & Moorehead are sub-letting enough land to this company to justify their bringing in at least one of their drilling outfits.

John Schenck, one of the principal owners of the Five Star Petroleum Co., properties is here in charge of the local operations for the company. Mr. Schenck has previously mentioned, with his associates has been successful in the oil business the last 12 or 15 years. He feels very optimistic about the local prospects and from the showing already made believes that the field is very similar to that near Centerville and with prospects of an equal return.

While Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Moorehead are reticent upon the subject it is known that they have certain other contracts pending which if completed will mean much more extensive drilling operations. They prospects are that another major well will see many drilling outfits at work on the leases northeast of the city.

It will be noted from the records that the leased land extends almost from the city limits to a point six miles northeast. It has been the policy of Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Moorehead to make operations not to make promises of just what they are expecting to do, and no announcements have been entered into.

RETURN FROM NORTHERN TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Weirich and children returned Monday night from Wabedo, Lake Hackensack, Minnesota. Dr. Weirich and the children have been spending the summer at that resort and Dr. Weirich went up about a month ago and they returned with him.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cocking and children have returned from a week's automobile trip to Mattoon, Champaign and a number of other cities in eastern Illinois. They were accompanied home from Mattoon by Miss Augusta Benefield of Cincinnati, a guest of Mrs. Cocking who will be a visitor here for several weeks.

DELIBERATIONS OF GRAND JURY WERE WIDENED

Will Apply Acid Test to Testimony of Var- ious Witnesses

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Sept. 5.—Deliberations of the special grand jury probing the Herrin riot were widened today. Attorney General Edward J. Brundage announced to include application of the acid test to testimony of witnesses. He predicted several indictments for perjury in the near future.

With the appearance of a local undertaker before the grand jury it became known that the grand jury was seeking to establish the identity of the slain men. The undertaker who testified today prepared the body of C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the Lester Strip mine, for burial. It was understood that the jurors were in possession of certain clues that may establish the identity of the 16 bodies buried in the Potters' Field near Herrin, the graves unmarked except by numbers.

At the time the 16 were buried, Herrin and Marion undertakers who had charge of the preparations said no positive identification papers were found in the victims' clothes. A description of each, opposite a number entered in a book kept by the coroner would be the only means of future identification they said.

Probe Authorities Acts

According to information made public the work of the grand jury now includes the investigation of the 22 deaths, responsibility for the riot, failure of authorities to call for troops, and the truthfulness of testimony offered by witnesses.

"Some of the witnesses who have appeared before the grand jury have not been telling the truth," Attorney General Brundage charged. "The grand jurors have checked the testimony of these witnesses by others who followed or preceded them into the jury room. A thorough investigation of every bit of testimony is being made."

Others who declined or who may decline to testify on the excuse that they might incriminate themselves will be cited before Circuit Judge D. T. Hartwell for contempt, Mr. Brundage continued.

Armed with search warrants, special officers during the past few days have been searching the home of persons in and near Marion, Herrin and vicinity for portions of mine equipment taken from the Lester strip mine at the time of the riots. Officials announced that valuable property had been recovered. It was understood that these investigations will continue for several days. Information which caused State's Attorney Duty to issue the search warrants it was believed, was obtained from witnesses before the grand jury.

INCREASE SPACE AT AYERS NATIONAL BANK

North Side Addition to Mezzanine Floor Is Now in Course of Construction.

Scaffolding erected at the west side of the Ayers National Bank building is an indication of some betterments that are in progress within the building. The space on the mezzanine floor of the bank is to be increased by an extension to the north. The added space will be about 30 by 11 feet and is badly needed for the working force of the bank.

The construction is of steel, brick and concrete of the same general type as the building. The entire roof of the addition will be of skylight structure and the materials are being shipped from Pittsburgh.

Joseph DeGoveia is the contractor and the improvements are being made under the supervision of T. C. MacVicar, manager of the Ayers National Bank building. The plans were made by Mr. MacVicar a number of months ago but delays in securing the necessary materials have made it impossible to proceed with the work until this time.

The outside scaffolding makes possible the operation of a hoist and the materials are taken thru a window at the north side of a elevator and transferred to one of the corridors above the court where the addition is to be built.

Traveling men are united in an effort to bring about a lower price for interchangeable mileage than the railroads now have in effect. Perhaps the traveling men may go on strike in order to bring about their desires. A walkout of traveling men should be very effective.

In some quarters Senator La Follette is considered as a high brow progressive and in others as a dangerous radical. Often he is termed a demagogue, and his war record in the senate has frequently been the subject of attack. Nevertheless, Mr. LaFollette has a wonderful hold on his home state of Wisconsin and his re-nomination for senator seems to be about on a basis of four to one.

Just how far the injunction secured by the government in an effort to straighten out the railroad strike situation is effective remains to be seen. By the injunction the railroads cannot be forced to take back their former employees, nor can the employees be forced to return. Some of the railroad managers declare that the situation was made more difficult by the government's action—that they were rapidly securing all needed workers for their shops. Nevertheless a great deal of railroad equipment is out of condition, and the railroad managers are still carrying advertisements for workers. Indeed, the situation is very much mixed up.

E. B. Street, secretary of the Manchester (England) Chamber of Commerce, says "Lancashire is accustomed to selling her products (cotton textiles) under the handicap of adverse tariffs, and has been so successfully throughout her history. But the industry has always fully appreciated that the tariff had the result of restricting the total amount of cotton goods consumed in any country."

Why should the British have the monopoly in foreign markets for years, under Cobden, the Manchesterians spent huge sums of money to defeat protective tariffs on cotton textiles in other countries. That was a good business proposition, and as long as they were successful in preventing protective rates in the United States, were unable to develop the industry here. But we finally overcame the Cobden propaganda, and now we have our own cotton textile mills, which in 1920 counted nearly 35,000,000 spindles, consumed nearly 7,000,000 bales of cotton, and employed 450,000 hands. Notwithstanding this, we imported in 1921 nearly $100,000,000 worth of cotton manufactures, under the Democratic law, and $54,000,000 worth the last year of the Republican protective tariff.

PATRIOTISM AT HOME
American veterans abroad, members of Paris Post No. 1, have endorsed the ship subsidy bill to foster the American merchant marine and to maintain the prestige of the American flag on the seas." Evidently American veterans abroad stand for patriotism at home. They see Great Britain, France, Japan, Canada, Australia, Italy, Holland, Spain, and Germany extending government aid to their shipping and they naturally wonder why the United States, whose shipping concerns pay the highest wages in the world, does not do something of the sort. Cut out our merchant marine and you scrap our international delivery wagons, and as soon as that is accomplished you will run up against a well-organized scheme of discriminations and priorities directed by competing nations against the foreign trade of the United States.

AMPEL FUNDS FOR DAMS.
It will not be until October 1st that the appropriation of $7,500,000 for continuation of work on the dams at Muscle Shoals is available, but in the meantime Secretary of War Weeks has recommended to the President that the balance of an appropriation heretofore made for the construction of the nitrate plants be expended at once to prevent deterioration of the work. If that is done, $500,000 will be immediately available to begin work at once and prosecute it until the larger sum is placed to the credit of the project a month hence.

The fact that there will soon be ample funds to continue work on the dams, makes it unnecessary for Congress to rush consideration of the various proposals for final disposition of the property. It is understood that certain modifications of his offer have been made to Henry Ford, which he is now considering. When a reply has been received from him, the matter will be taken up again and it is possible that a decision may be reached before the Congress comes to an end on March 4th.

OWEN MOORE
Assisted by Tom Wilson, the great comedian; Togo Yamamoto, Pauline Gordon and Nita Naldi, in

"REPORTED MISSING"
The story concerns the efforts of an Oriental shipping agent to gain control of a fleet of ships upon which Owen Moore as Richard Boyd, has an option. In order that young Boyd's option will lapse, the wily Chinaman arranges to have him shipwrecked—and then the fun begins. It is just one thrill and laugh after another.
The biggest thrill in the picture is a race between a sea sled and a hydroaeroplane which is followed by a chase in high powered machines.

COMING TOMORROW
SHIRLEY MASON
The Dainty and Lovable, in
"THE NEW TEACHER"
She wanted an opportunity to aid the people of New York's slums, and it came to her. How she found love and adventure amid the degradation and squalor is beautifully and fascinatingly pictured. Shirley Mason will not appear in a role that is not sweet and clean and lovable and in this play she is particularly lovable.

STATE WILL AID MORTON ROAD PAVING

Engineers representing the state highway department came to Jacksonville yesterday for a conference with Mayor Crabtree and City Engineer Henderson with reference to the work the department is to do on Morton avenue.

After looking over the situation it was agreed that the state will construct a bridge twenty feet wide across the Mauvaisterre and will advertise for bids for this structure and for the laying of 500 feet of roadway. The bids are to be asked at the same time the city asks for bids for the construction of pavement from Hartin avenue to the city limits.

The coming of the engineers was in fulfillment of a promise made by Governor Small and Colonel Miller to Mr. Crabtree ten days since.

KEEP SPACE CLEAR TO WATER FOUNTAINS

A well known Jacksonville woman noticing that the city had painted the curbing adjacent to fire hydrants to prevent parking by automobiles suggests that it would be well for the city to do the same thing around the fountains for watering horses located at the northwest and northeast corners of Central park.

It has been noted, during the recent hot days that automobiles parked in front of the watering places completely blocked their use. This should be remedied as there are still many horses used in Jacksonville and farmers from the surrounding country also drive horses to town. The animals should have plenty of water this kind of weather and the proper authorities should see to it that the watering places are available for use at all time.

C. OF C. PLANS FOR HALLOWEEN FESTIVAL

Expect to Make Affair Better Even Than That of Last Year—Series of Floats Are Planned

The executive division of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday morning to discuss formulating plans for the second annual Halloween festival. The board authorized appointing a committee to make and carry out plans for the celebration. It is expected that the occasion will be even larger and better than last year's celebration.

A probable feature of the program will be a series of floats gotten up especially for the occasion. More elaborate decorations for the square are also in prospect which will include a very effective and pleasing lighting effect.

The committee also authorized the appointment of a committee to arrange for automobile week. This may be held in connection with the festival. Suitable prizes for various decorations and enterprises are also to be worked out. Charles Buhner, chairman of this division of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting.

CHURCH OFFICERS HAD GET TOGETHER MEETING

Officers of Northminster Church are guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Spoons—Plans for Coming Year's Work Outlined.

The officers of Northminster church, together with their wives, were entertained Tuesday evening at the church by Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Spoons. It was a sort of "get together" occasion, following the summer vacation period, and proved both enjoyable and profitable.

Some time was spent socially and delightful refreshments were served during the evening. However, the greater part of the evening was spent in talking over plans for the coming fall and winter months.

W. C. Sperry was named a delegate to the conference to be held at Rock Creek church next Monday, with George Day as alternate. Plans for the rally day and homecoming of the church were also discussed and the date decided upon was the first Sunday in October. An interesting feature of that occasion will be a barbecue dinner at the church, the pastor himself attending to the barbecuing.

It is planned by Northminster church to have some sort of social evening or entertainment about once a week during the winter and it is also planned to resume the Wednesday evening luncheons at some later date. It was decided to set aside one day for the raising of the necessary sum to pay for paving work on the front and side of the church. This matter is in the hands of the trustees and they are planning to devote some day near Thanksgiving to the task of raising the money needed. It is also planned to pave the space in front of the church in such a way that parking space for ten or twelve cars will be provided. The work of the Sunday school was also discussed and altogether the affairs of the church were given a thorough going over.

The Value of Jewels
In nothing perhaps is the wise economy of "the best" so pronounced as in jewelry.
Nothing that one can buy possesses greater intrinsic worth than Pearls and Precious Stone Jewelry and increasing values are more pronounced in the higher grades.

catur. They were welcomed at Grace M. E. church, Rev. A. M. Wells, pastor, and his corps of efficient helpers.

Bishop Nicholson is being entertained by the pastor, near the church, where the cabinet—his advisers—will meet and meet out the appointments in due time.

This annual gathering has in it a hearty social element and these men, many of whom have not seen their most intimate associates of other years, since the Jacksonville session in 1921, are renewing acquaintances and prospecting the outcome of this 99th session of the conference.

Two important meetings were held this afternoon, one of a public anniversary, the other a commission of ministers and laymen of thirty members on education. F. A. McCarty of Bloomington, First church is chairman, and A. S. Chapman of Paris, First church is secretary. The problem of endowment and equipment of the Educational Institution of the conference, policy survey by the president of these schools is up for solution. The Preachers' Aid Society held a meeting at 2:00 o'clock in the church and in the evening the anniversary meeting of the board of conference claimants was held. B. F. Shipp of Tuscola First church, presiding, and Dr. Charles R. Oaten of Chicago, the speaker. This board is at last co-operating with the Preachers' Aid Society in furnishing relief to the retired ministry, at the rate of $24 for each year of service. The limit of 40 years is fixed by the conference, which equals $960.00 per annum. There are only 13 who receive this amount. To the widows of deceased preachers only $18 for each year of effective service is allowed, making the limit of ministerial life 40 years, or $720.000 per annum. Only three out of 89 claimants receive this amount, namely, Mrs. P. F. Gay, Mrs. Robert Stephens and Mrs. William H. Wilder, although 15 others receive upwards of $500 each. It would seem as if the lot of the retired ministers and the widows of the deceased ministers, is an easier one than in any previous year.

Grace Church, Decatur.
This is the seventh time the conference has met in Decatur. Its first entertainment was in 1857, when Bishop Levi Scott presided. Then in 1865 Bishop James was president. In 1872 Bishop Bowman was the presiding officer and in 1887 at Stapp's chapel, the original home of the present Grace church Bishop Foss was in charge. Then on intervals of 25 years occurred, before the next session, which was in 1912, when Bishop McDowell was the president. This session was held in First church and Dr. J. C. Willette was pastor. Then in 1920 with P. A. Havighurst, pastor, First church again entertained and Bishop Nicholson was the chief officer. Decatur is centrally located, and besides First church and Grace, has a new church, St. Paul's, on the east side with Clyde R. Booth, pastor. A Young Looking Body of Men.

It would be interesting to compare conference group pictures of 40 years ago with those of today. The tall hat, and long beard has gone, the variety of style in coat and tie has given place to a standardize tailor made suit. In fact in 1879, just 43 years ago, when the conference was held in Contonary church Jacksonville, Bishop Andrews presiding, only two men over 66 years of age, D. H. Stubbs and Joseph Montgomery, received appointments, and these men aged 69 and 67, respectively. But because of dress and beard and manners, (many of them were given over to the use of tobacco), the yoked older. They almost all wore boots. The neat fitting factory shoe only occasionally worn, if ever in winter.

The "Borrowed Time" Class.
In a recent issue of the North-western Christian Advocate, a list of 12 men who had reached the allotted four score years beyond and were living on "Borrowed Time," was published. They were:

- 1—L. F. Walden, Urbana, born June 5, 1833.
- 2—C. G. Wood, Wichita, Kan., born Nov. 18, 1833.
- 3—J. B. Colwell, Chicago, born July 19, 1834.
- 4—J. L. B. Ellis, Shelbyville, born Aug. 9, 1834.
- 5—J. R. Reasoner, Urbana, born Mar. 1, 1836.
- 6—P. N. Minear, Harwood, Texas, born Mar. 3, 1836.
- 7—S. H. Whitlock, Peoria, born April 7, 1836.
- 8—H. S. Tyron, Grand Rapids, Mich., born April 16, 1838.
- 9—J. A. Kumbler, Hamilton, O., born April 20, 1838.
- 10—S. Goldsmith, Thompson, Neb., born Nov. 19, 1840.
- 11—C. P. Masden, Oakland, Cal., born 1840.
- 12—W. H. Musgrove, Chicago, born Feb. 16, 1841.

Class B.
There is another class that has reached aged 75, but have not reached the "four score" stage. They number 14, and are as follows:

- 1—W. F. Gillmore, A. A. Alkire, W. N. Rutledge, J. W. Crane, J. M. Goodspeed, G. A. Frazier, W. T. Beades, M. P. Wilkin, E. M. Smith, Jasper Miller, George W. Read, C. P. Hard, H. C. Turner and J. Wesley Miller.

Those who are 70 years of age and under 75 number 15, two of whom are in effective relationship and are serving pastorate. It would be interesting to designate a class of over 40, who have reached the sixtieth year of their normal life, twenty of whom are serving pastoral charges, but it would be injudicious to name them. A physician may find it difficult to quit his practice, on account of length of time and association in the community; the lawyer, the banker or merchant may keep right on, regardless of increasing years, but gray hairs and dimness of sight and failing memory, handicaps the pastor in the sixties. Hence the sensitiveness of the preacher, like unto the feminine sex to acknowledge his age, until he reaches eighty, then he likes to astonish his acquaintances by the remarkable evidence of vitality he can exhibit.

Aged 50, and Under 60 Years of Age.

The list of preachers who have reached 50 years of age, and have not entered into the sixties, number 87, forty of whom are in the effective list and are preaching most in important churches. One hundred and forty-five are under fifty years of age.

Some day, soon when a museum of Illinois Methodism is established, perhaps in the Buck Memorial library at Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington, group pictures and single portraits of the worthy leaders of the conference both lay and ministerial will be established, and a more complete history of the events and institutions of the church and conference will be written up and preserved. In the meantime, the 99th session has begun its record. More anon.

Mrs. J. E. Karl and son of Chicago are guests of relatives in the city for a few days.

Van Blarcom, Carolyn. "Obstetrical Nursing."—This is a unique textbook on maternity nursing by a nurse whose wide experience in obstetrics and whose painstaking study of technique in hospitals of the United States and Canada and England has given her a deep insight into the special problems which face nurses and teachers alike in presenting the practical and theoretical sides of this question. The author has not only presented the subject with simplicity and clarity but has infused into the book a warm sympathy for the patient. It will serve the nurse as a guide in meeting the trying situations which beset her in her professional work. All nurses, doctors and nurses in training will be interested in this book. It is a technical book well illustrated with charts. Get it at the public library.

Colp & Keller. "Textbook of Surgical Nursing."—The authors have endeavored to present as accurately and simply as possible for the pupil nurse, the actual detailed nursing of the various conditions relating to things surgical. The various procedures are based on the technique employed in hospitals throughout the country, and therefore the book will be useful as a text in training schools generally without regard to local conditions. The book includes chapters on the surgery and surgical nursing of various diseases, the description of the operating room, sterilization of the various instruments, dressing of wounds, bandaging and a chapter on surgical dietetics. Mr. Colp is instructor in surgery at the Columbia University School of medicine and Miss Keller is chief operating room nurse at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City. Low, Barbara. "Psychoanalysis—A brief account of the Freudian theory. Every one is asking nowadays, 'What is psychoanalysis?' This book is an answer to the question in such simple language that all can understand, and yet it is written with grasp and authority that even the expert will be satisfied. The book describes not merely Freud's epoch-making analysis of the human mind, but the definite technique by which psychoanalysis achieves its remarkable cures. Psychoanalysis, or analytical psychology, was first developed by Dr. Sigmund Freud of Vienna, as a new method of studying the human mind. His researches have completely transformed our conception of how men think, feel and act. He has discovered and explored the "unconscious," the secret area of thought back of all conscious action, and out of this new science which he has developed or created he has been able to cure many of man's mental and moral ills. It is a book well worth reading and studying and the subject has aroused much interest and enthusiasm in people in all walks of life the past few months. Get it at the public library.

Brill, A. A. "Fundamental Conceptions of Psychoanalysis—This is a new and authoritative statement of the Freudian doctrine, done in a lively and coherent fashion, and with unusual delicacy in the choice of illustrative material. It was published in the belief that many who have found it impossible to read Freud's own books will welcome a statement of his theories, by a scientist of distinction rather than an amateur. It is a very readable book and the author is a lecturer on psychoanalysis and abnormal psychology in the New York University. Get it at the public library.

plain and simple language the subject of government in its relation to industry. Having begun life as a common laborer, his attitude toward labor is very sympathetic, but he is fair-minded in his appraisal of the rights of capital, of labor and the general public. His account of the first eighteen months experience of the working of the Kansas Industrial Act awakens the hope that a way might be found by which labor can be protected from a large part of the tremendous evils of unemployment, over-work, and under pay, and the general public also can be protected from the evils that follow in the wake of industrial warfare. This book will be of great interest to all readers and will be invaluable to the debaters in this winter's work. Get it at the public library.

Lauck, W. Jett & Watts, Claude S. "The Industrial Code."—This is a history of industrial developments during the war and since the armistice was signed, a presentation in an unbiased way, of the problems of the present relations of labor and capital, the principles that apply and the enlightened opinion of different social and economic groups. The book is written with due regard to the claims of both sides and takes up such subjects as "Collective Bargaining," the Kansas Industrial Court, Esch-Townsend Railroad act, the right of labor to a living wage, the right of labor to a voice in the control of industry, the code of women, etc. The authors were members of the National War Labor Board, which was organized to make a settlement between employees in all industries during the war. The industrial code is a book that will appeal strongly to sympathizers both of capital and labor, to all economic students and teachers and will answer many questions of the debaters on these subjects. DAVIS TENNIS CUP STAYS IN AMERICA

Tilden and Johnston Win Final Comes from Patterson and Anderson—Patterson Pays United States High Compliment.

FORREST HILLS, Sept. 5.—For another year America will hold the Davis cup, emblematic of the world's tennis supremacy, her brilliant exponents of the game having turned back the Australian challengers today in two matches on the turf courts of the west side tennis club.

Needling only one of the singles contests this afternoon William T. Tilden and William M. Johnston vanquished James O. Anderson and Gerald Patterson, respectively the scores being 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 6-4, and 6-2, 6-1.

Johnston in the first match steady throughout the rallies of the American and likewise Tilden's stamina carried him thru altho Anderson was the more brilliant.

Patterson has his back hand working better today than against Tilden on Friday. Johnston soon learned this and drew Patterson into a deep court game. Johnston's drives were deeper. He seldom went to the net.

Anderson displayed the sort of game that his teammate, O'Hara Wood used in the doubles match Saturday. He drove to the side lines thru Tilden's feet and cross court for placements that ended many of the longer rallies. So many of the Australian's drives came so fast that Tilden made no attempt to return them.

Patterson captain of the Australian team in a speech to the gallery said:

"I want to thank you for the great spirit of sportsmanship you have shown. It has been the same everywhere in the United States that we have been. I may be criticised for saying this but I am going to say it anyway. Americans are the greatest sports-men in the world."

BROWNS DEFEATED CLEVELAND AGAIN

Final Score is 10 to 9—Williams' 34th Home Run Helps Win—Sisler Hits Safely in 35th Consecutive Game.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 5.—Ken Williams' thirty-fourth home run in the fourth inning with three men on base was a big factor in the Browns' third straight triumph over Cleveland by virtue of which they regain the league lead. The score was 10 to 9. Williams now leads American league home run hitters and is tied with Hornsby of the Cardinals.

Sisler hits safely in his thirty-fifth game, and is only five games behind the league record.

WHITE SOX SPLIT TWO WITH TIGERS

Take First Game 9 to 8 and Lose Second 15 to 5—Recruit Holds Detroit Scoreless for 6 Innings.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Chicago and Detroit divided a double header, the Tigers winning the first game 9 to 8 and losing the second 5 to 15. In the first game the Tigers concentrated their attack in three innings for all their scores. Chicago played an uphill battle and staged a belated rally in the ninth which fell one run short of tying the count. Schaik was nabbed off first in the last frame restraining the Sox. Ted Blankenship was knocked off the mound in the third inning of the second encounter and Cecil Duff a recruit from Aberdeen in the South Dakota league held the Tigers scoreless. He pitched a steady game and started the rally in the fourth with a single which broke the tie. After that Detroit played erratic ball while Chicago hit Olson opportunely and finished with a heavy attack on Cole.

PIKE'S PEAK OCEAN-TO-OCEAN HIGHWAY

Vision of Enthusiasts of Missouri and Kansas Becomes a Reality

Less than a decade ago a small number of men, enthusiasts with a broad vision and faith in the American people, conceived what has grown into a great transcontinental trail, the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean Highway, later also designated as "The Pershing Transport Route."

Almost simultaneously in Missouri and Kansas these men arose and they outlined their vision on a map. Drawing a line for most part straight across the continent, they said: "That shall be the great highway uniting the people of the Atlantic and Pacific and drawing into closer communication 100,000,000 persons comprising the great American nation."

"A dream!" was the verdict of many. "Yes, a dream," answered these enthusiasts, but a dream will some day become a reality! And they knew no discouragement.

This vision was seen by the men in the two great western states at a time when there was not a mile of improved highway along the proposed route in either state. Today, less than ten years later, assurance has been given that the route will be paved thruout Missouri, from Hannibal to St. Joseph, a distance of 203 miles, connecting the Mississippi and Missouri rivers with the shortest route between rivers in the state, and in Kansas the hard-surfacing of the road has started at the Missouri river and before the end of the year it will have been paved to Troy, a distance of twelve miles.

Thus has the idea taken root and there is almost a certainty that the road will be paved thru a large section of Kansas, in addition to the Missouri paving, long before another decade has passed.

The celebration, August 9th, with a dinner at Wathena, Kan., of the completion of the road between St. Joseph and Wathena, which was known to motorists as the worst section of the highway between the oceans in muddy weather, recalled the days of the early planning of this highway by men who are nearly all alive today and in fact continue to express their enthusiasm by actively getting behind every movement for improving this great central highway, upon which millions of dollars have already been expended in various states.

There is today greater activity on the Pike's Peak Highway than at previous time in the history of the association behind the construction of the road. At present the paving is being extended from Wathena to Troy, Kan., and the designation just made of the section between St. Joseph and Hannibal, assures a great paved way entirely across Missouri.

In Illinois and in Indiana construction is under way and east of Indiana the road is paved the greater part of the way to New York. West of Kansas there are stretches of high grade construction in Colorado and Utah and Nevada, and much of the road is paved in California, that pleasure land of good roads and fine climate.

Truly the vision of those road boosters who first designated the roadway, might be looked upon as almost an inspiration. "The Appian Way of America," as the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean Highway has been called, had its inception in meetings in Kansas and Missouri. In the former state the Rock Island Highway was laid out following largely the Rock Island railway thru the northern tier of Kansas counties and the Missouri route, almost directly east and west, was designated at first as the "Houn Dog Trail," but that rather undignified appellation was later discarded and the Missouri section became the Missouri division of the Pike's Peak Highway.

The Pike's Peak Highway Association was organized in St. Joseph, which city has since been its headquarters, tho for a time the secretary maintained offices in Colorado Springs. Now virtually all of the activities are conducted from the national headquarters in St. Joseph.

In connection with the laying out of the Missouri division is a division is a little incident which is not generally known. A reporter in search of a "dramatic story" entered the offices of L. M. Stallard, then county engineer of Buchanan County with offices in the courthouse in St. Joseph.

"Want a story?" Stallard asked, in response to the stereotyped question of "What's doing?" asked a hundred times a day by most reporters. "Sure," was the reply.

"What do you say about building a highway across Missouri, from St. Joseph to Hannibal?" asked Stallard.

A map was taken down and a road laid out passing thru most of the larger towns of north central Missouri and one of the most fertile regions of the entire country.

This made an article of more than a column in length. The following Sunday it appeared in St. Louis newspapers under a St. Joseph date line and in less than a week a meeting had been called for the organization of what later became the Missouri part of the Pike's Peak Highway.

The Kansas division of the Pike's Peak Highway had its inception at a meeting held in Belleville, Kan., March 21, 1913, when the highway was laid out from St. Joseph to the Colorado line. Less than one year after the birth of this highway, on March 18, 1914, a meeting was called in St. Joseph, presided over by A. Q. Miller of Belleville, at which the great transcontinental highway became a reality.

At the time the Rock Island was laid out less than 100 miles of the road were known as county roads. At the end of six months almost the entire route was given county aid and was being dragged. In September, 1913, Ex-Governor Hodges, State Highway Engineer Gearhart, D. E. Watkins, a Blue Book representative, and officers of the association made the trip from St. Joseph to Colorado Springs and Denver in automobiles supplied by the Au-is not there, after all—

VERY often the hill we seem to be climbing is made out of the common mistakes of diet which starve tissues and nerves and slow down energies.

How smooth and level the path seemed to be when we were younger.

Simple, natural food may level that hill to a smooth path again.

Why not try it?

Keep on with this crisp, delicious, strengthening food in place of heavy, ill-assorted, starchy breakfasts and lunches—and see if the old-time zest and speed on the old-time level path doesn't come back again.

tomobile Club and the Chamber of Commerce of St. Joseph. Great interest and enthusiasm was shown by the people along the entire line, even tho the good roads movement, as it is now known, was almost unheard of then.

One claim for this route thru Kansas is that it is the shortest way between the Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains, and that it is mostly over high ground apart from river courses and sandy stretches, and traverses the heart of the agricultural section of Kansas.

At present the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean Highway is logged, mapped and marked from New York to San Francisco. It is perhaps better improved thruout its length than any other transcontinental route.

The highway links together twelve states. It passes thru six state capitals. It traverses ninety-seven counties and passes thru more than 500 hamlets, villages, towns and cities; and it serves in these and adjoining counties a total population of nearly 25,000,000.

The Pike's Peak route is an almost straight east and west line thru most of its length. From the fine roads of the eastern states, including the scenic Alleghenies of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, the highway continues thru the wonderful agricultural country from Ohio to Colorado. There it enters scenic wonderland in the vicinity of Colorado Springs, and continues thru the Rocky Mountains and thru central Utah and the northern part of Nevada into California.

The Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean Highway crosses the most prominent north and south trails of

HIGH SCHOOL HAS RECORD ENROLLMENT

The Chapin Community High school opened Monday with a record enrollment of seventy students. This enrollment is the largest in the history of the school.

It indicates the growing demand in the community for a high school education. Two years ago the attendance was 54 students. This year's attendance shows an increase of nearly thirty percent in two years' time.

The increase in enrollment is due in part to the introduction of the more practical subjects such as Domestic Science, and Vocational Agriculture.

Again the enlarged territory brought about through the organization of a community high school has stimulated attendance.

Another factor in increasing the attendance is the fact that through the community high school a larger corps of well trained teachers can economically be employed, and standard first class equipment furnished, all of which makes for good school work.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IN REGULAR SESSION

Meeting Held Tuesday Evening—
Considerable Business of Importance Transacted.

The board of education met in regular session last night and transacted considerable business. A number of teachers were hired. Steps were taken to pave Kosciusko street between State and Jordan. Work on the Open Air school was ordered and various other matters considered.

The board met with all members present except Messrs Roberts and Metcalf with President Black in the chair.

Bills amounting to $1,588.87 and payroll $1,620.82 were approved and ordered paid.

The secretary explained that there was no treasurer's report available as taxes had not been turned over by the sheriff.

A note from the Harris Trust Co., of Chicago, announced that all the bonds had been received and cancelled and new bonds issued and that this was done in a remarkably short time.

The committee on teachers and courses of study announced the following appointments which were approved:

Mabel M. Ruyle, High school, English; graduate of Jacksonville High school and of Illinois College, A. B. degree.

Margaret B. Vogel, New Ulm, Minn.; graduate of a High school and Milwaukee Downer college, A. B. degree.

Ruth Fensthemaker Bartlett, graduate Jacksonville High school, one year at Illinois college. Formerly taught in our schools; grade school position.

Appointment of Edith Nicol to the principalship of the Josephine Milligan school; a graduate of the Illinois State university and for the past few years a teacher in the Jefferson school.

Wanda Reed, normal school graduate. Assistant teacher in Josephine Milligan school.

A request from English Bros. for the remainder of $500 due them on contract was presented and referred to the finance committee and ex-secretary Fiedler to investigate and report.

The matter of the seats supplied by the American Seat company to be changed in accordance with contract was brought up and it was announced work was mostly done.

The balance due the Gause estate on their contract was brought up and referred to finance committee with power to act.

The secretary was authorized to procure order blanks and other needed stationery.

The superintendent reported the need of few articles of equipment for the manual training department and the matter was referred to the superintendent and building and material committee with power to act.

Paving Kosciusko Street.

It was suggested that it would be an excellent idea to have Kosciusko street paved between State and Jordan as it would save tracking against a large amount of mud and supply parking space for automobiles. It was announced that property owners on the west side of the said street were reasonably disposed in the matter and the finance committee was instructed to petition the board of local improvement to order the said work done while the men were here working on other streets.

The superintendent announced that $2,680 had been received of vocational training.

The superintendent brought up a matter which he considered of very great importance, and that was of supplying at bare cost at pasteurizing milk and other lunch refreshments for children especially needing same.

May Have Clinics.

The matter of clinics for the examination of all children was brought up and all were of the opinion that it was a matter of great importance. The chair suggested that with the two county officers already employed and with the volunteer assistance of local physicians and dentists this matter might be accomplished without great expense and result in benefit, and the superintendent was instructed to appeal to the county health department, the tuberculosis board and local physicians and dentists to co-operate in carrying out this work, for the board would supply a room and needed equipment.

No Bids Accepted.

Bids for heating, plumbing and wiring the open air school building were read. Bids for plumbing and heating were as follows: Doyle Bros., $2,250; Shedd & McNamara, $3,290.11; Schureman, $4,200. Wiring, two kinds of work, Doyle Bros., $28.50 and $238.35; Sieber & Co., $350 and $423.50. None of the bids were accepted as the building is not in shape for the purpose.

As no bids had been received for the open air school building the committee was instructed to go ahead and prepare the building for use in a partial manner.

SIX THOUSAND MILES
IN AUTO TRAVEL

W. W. Gillham and Party Return
After Journey to Coast States — From Jacksonville Two Months.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gillham of this city, Miss Martha Gillham and J. Edgar Gillham of Riggs-ton have returned from a two months' automobile journey to the west. Leaving Jacksonville July 1, they traveled to Macon, Mo., on the Ocean to Ocean highway, then because of the heavy rain it was necessary to detour to Kansas City.

From that point they followed the Union Pacific trail to Colorado Springs, and then passed again the Ocean to Ocean highway, following it to Salt Lake City. Then they traveled over the Evergreen route to Yumatilla, Ore., and thence over the Columbia river route to Portland.

From that city they followed the Pacific highway to Seattle. Returning their itinerary was over the Yellowstone route to Chicago, and together they found this route the most satisfactory of all. Mr. Gillham said yesterday that there are hard roads or graveled road practically all the way from Seattle to Chicago. They followed the Lone Star route from Chicago to Springfield and once more hit the Ocean to Ocean trail.

About three weeks was spent on the journey to the coast and an equal time returning, as the itinerary included stops at a number of principal places of interest. The actual running time was 16 days on the journey out and 15 days on the return trip. The speedometer of the Cleveland sedan used for the trip showed a mileage of 6,028. On the journey to the coast the travelers had one puncture and three returning.

We are selling Chevrolets exclusively now, but have one NEW OLDSMOBILE, 4 cyl., and $1000. Will buy it. J. F. CLAUS

ASPHALT LAYING WILL SOON BEGIN

Big Plant Erected by Standard Paving Company in Readiness — East State Street Pavement Foundation Will be Completed Friday.

The work of laying the concrete foundation is to be resumed on East State street this morning, as all the necessary materials have been received. It will take about two days and a half, Mr. Thatcher of the Standard Paving Co. said yesterday, to do this work and to make the street ready for asphalt. It is the intention to immediately put down the foundation course on Webster avenue and then the work of laying the asphalt will begin.

West State street, Jordan street, East State street and Webster avenue being cared for in this way.

In preparation for the laying of the asphalt Mr. Thatcher has had the asphalt mixing plant erected on the south end of the right of way adjoining the property of the state school for the blind. It has taken a force of men several weeks to put this extensive plant in shape for work and the materials needed for the asphalt mixture are at hand.

The Trinidad Lake asphalt has been shipped in barrels which are placed near the mixing plant. The asphalt is heated in great kettles and passes automatically into a mixing vat or mill, where it is mixed with sand and a heavy oil, which serves as a cover.

The mixture is brought to a temperature of about 320 degrees before it is ready for application on the street. The asphalt is poured into tank wagons or trucks and then quickly transferred to the streets where pavement laying operations are in progress. The asphalt is for the first course, a finely ground rock, sand and other material being used for the thicker top course.

To get a real understanding of the operation an inspection of the plant is necessary. It is a big structure made mostly of iron and steel. It is mounted on trucks and when moved from one city to another has its place in a freight train just like a car.

Such a structure represents a cost of from $35,000 to $40,000. The Standard Paving Co. uses several of these paving plants in its various operations. The one utilized here before was located on property adjoining the Wash railroad.

All asphalt work done in Jacksonville has been by the Standard Paving Co., and every pavement put down thus far has given very satisfactory service.

For the operations at this time the services of a chemist have been secured by the city and he will apply certain tests to each lot of asphalt as it leaves the plant to be spread upon the paving job.

OLD JACKSONVILLE SOME HOT SEPTEMBER DAYS

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

There have been many hot firsts of September days, in Illinois, even in Jacksonville, if one must say it—really they have been perennial.

September First, 1864.

If the War had not made it hot enough—one hundred degrees Fahrenheit in the shade—there was the recent Democratic National Convention in Chicago, all "het" up, and still a heating with Copperhead hate of Lincoln, and his freeing of three million slaves; and which declared the War "a failure!"

That convention made the greatest breakdown for itself, when it put McClellan on a "Peace" platform, to beat Abraham Lincoln. Think of it, think of Americans trying to break up the greatest Republic, to forget our heroes who gave all for their Country!

Yes, that was a hot First of September.

Down here, over on North Main street, somewhere about sun set, "Uncle Jackie" Barton sat in the north door of his kitchen, opposite the south door; and he asked his wife why she had such a fire in the stove.

Her reply was: "Why Jackie, there hasn't been any fire in the stove all day!"

It was not so warm in Chicago, or here, that November election day when the country only gave Gen. McClellan three states—New Jersey, Delaware and Kentucky.

September First, 1872, was another hot day in Chicago, and probably thruout the West; for the mercury again ran up to 100 degrees in the thermometer.

But those were days of peace, for Grant—Lincoln's great Lieutenant—was to be re-elected President in November; and those who had hated the Soldier with his master, the Statesman, felt no hopes of destroying the Grand Old Party.

Two great national victories gave peace, tranquility and rest to the land.

September, 1881.

Perhaps one more easily remembered other things in years of great events. Such a one was that of August-September, 1881, when the dry and hot days followed one another so long. The clouds in August would come up from the West, from morn till noon, when they struck the zenith and everybody hoped the rain was coming, but then the hopeful clouds backed off till at evening they were on the Western horizon. Everything was dry as tinder, and the western prairies were yellow with their grass.

The writer wished to go East, with his family, but owing to the heat dared not start till September 8th, going then by the northern route thru Chicago and on to the Metropolis for a few days, then down on the Jersey coast to Sea Girt.

Does the heat excite men beyond reason, else why did the unbalanced man—the July 2nd—shoot down, the kindly Garfield starting for a rest over the National holiday?

Twelve miles north of Sea Girt, at Elbron the soldier who helped Thomas at Chicamagua lay a dying thru the hot August-September days, until he surrendered his soul, September 19th, to the God who gave it.

Two days later we saw Garfield lying in state—two great palm leaves crossed on his bosom—and they took the mortal part forth to Washington to a national funeral from the Capital to the shores of placid Erie, where they laid him down to rest till the last great Trumpet shall sound.

September First, 1922, saw a glowing sun, and fervid heat thruout the land recalled the days of 1864.

Again the World, as well as this country, has been inflamed by men's passions and hatreds until even in four years the oppressiveness of the greatest War in all history has not quieted down, and mankind is still seeking relief from the unutterable woes, the lost friends and the frightful debts and ravages of this Conflict.

Would that the Prince of Peace might come and heal the nations of their wounds.

HIGHER PRICES ON STOCK EXCHANGE
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Settlement of the hard coal strike imparted a buoyant tone to prices in today's stock market. Industrial shares leading the advance at gains of 1 to 4 points. Profit-taking and short pressure against a few stocks in a weakened technical position gave the market an appearance of irregularity at times.

Wall Street's belief that the independent steel mergers would be carried in completion, despite the ruling of the federal trade commission that they were illegal monopolies found expression in the brisk demand for steel shares.
Republic Iron and Steel closed at a net gain of nearly three points and Crucible, Bethlehem and Gulf were up a point or more. Norfolk & Western climbed to a new peak price on reports of the possibility of an extra dividend now that the soft coal strike is over. Rock Island also established a new high price in a sudden and surprising outburst of activity, but it forfeited most of its gain. Insofar as the hard coal carriers were concerned the settlement of the strike had been largely discounted, such roads as the Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania showing small fractional losses. Total sales approximated 900,000 shares.

Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and held steady at that
money was slightly firmer, due to first of the month requirements.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. British and other allied remittances declining slightly behind Saturday's quotations. German marks sold around 7 cents a hundred as compared with the extreme low of five cents.

Liberty Bonds held firm.
Total bond sales (par value) were $1,902,000.

THE RECOLLECTIONS OF A MINISTER

A short time since Dr. F. M. Rule related to the writer a very interesting experience but with no thought that it would be used in the Journal:

"During my early ministry, when I was a young man, I was stationed in a certain city and was doing the best I could. One night I heard a peculiar noise in the alley of my house and decided I would investigate. My wife thought it was the grunt of an animal but I intended to see positively and going to the place found it was John X—, a reporter on a morning paper and a man with an interesting wife and four children, the oldest a pleasant girl of twelve and the youngest a toddling girl also while the other two were boys. I helped him up; asked him what he was doing there and he said he had taken too much. I walked him vigorously in the night air and by the time we reached his home he was considerably sobered. Naturally his wife and daughter were crushed and humiliated by his conduct. I talked to him earnestly and he asked me to pray with him which I did and then told him to make me a solemn promise; that he would stay right at home till I called again. I would be very busy for a day or two and urged him to stay there and he faithfully agreed to do so. Next day I called at the newspaper office and explained the situation and as the editor and I were good friends he excused the wayward reporter and promised not to discharge him.

I called at the house the day I promised and John was there as he had agreed and very penitent. He was in his garden which he had cultivated and it was fine. I talked with him kindly and earnestly, not rebuking or scolding, and finally asked him to attend prayer meeting that evening and he said he would be there. He came and with him his wife and older daughter. I tried to conduct the meeting in a way that would do the man the most good and at the close asked if there were present any who would like to come out on the Lord's side and begin a new life in His cause and to my delight John, his wife and daughter all came and gave me their hands.

I watched the trio carefully and they proved true. John was a fine scholar and speaker and devoted himself to the cause of temperance speaking far and wide on the subject.

Duty took me far away from that place for many years but finally I moved back as presiding elder of the district. At the close of my first quarterly sermon one forenoon a pleasant faced lady came up to me and said:

"Mr. Rule; you are going home with me to dinner."

I was taken back by such a peremptory command from a total stranger and remarked that my wife would expect me home for the noon tide meal.

"No; you are going with me; it is settled. I will get word to your wife so come along without any further argument."

Still mystified I followed and when we reached her home she produced a photograph and asked me if I recognized it. I did indeed it was of myself when a young man with black hair and side whiskers, much unlike my appearance at that time.

"And you are sure you don't know me?"

"I am certainly unable to say that I do."

And then with tears in her eyes she said she was the little girl, daughter of John X—, whom I received into the church so long ago. Her son was the organist of the church and they had ever remembered that time.

It was my turn to feel the tears in my eyes as I recalled the days so long ago and we had a happy visit. She said her father had devoted himself to the cause of temperance for years and felt sure he had done great good."

One day a few years after I saw in her pew two strangers gentleman and a lady. They were her brother and sister. The sister had married well and the brothers were pursuing successful and honorable careers.

The foregoing is wholly from memory and may be inaccurate in some details and the correct name is not given. Such an experience is surely more to be desired than great riches.

Some time since a brilliant man preached two sermons in the First Baptist church of this city. The writer had crossed the ocean with him and he was truly a remarkable man. He frequently showed the photographs of his wife and children else the hearts of some of the gentler sex on board might have been softened toward him. He was a fine elocutionist, gave an entertainment each evening and a good sermon on Sunday and was the favorite of the whole passenger list.

One day the writer asked him for his pedigree and he astonished his questioner by saying he was one of Dr. Bernardo's boys. Dr. Bernardo, like Dr. Passavant and some others, was one of the men for whom the righteous Judge will effect a special throne in the better land. One evening, soon after he had arrived in London, a young man to begin his life work, he heard of some boys, shelterless, hugging a smoke stack to keep warm.

He took them in and from that time devoted a long life and large fortune to saving wayward boys and girls. Hundreds on hundreds he took from the gutter and educated to lives of usefulness. The minister in question drifted to London and sank into dissipation and folly. Dr. Bernardo managed to get hold of him and when seen by the writer he was pastor of a large church in the suburbs of New York.

One evening, many years ago, a man was staggering drunk along the streets of Salem, Massachusetts. The hand of a friend was laid on his shoulder and tho he insisted he was beyond hope and reformation the friend took him in charge and helped him to a better life. That man was the immortal John B. Gough whose efforts for temperance resulted in hundreds of thousands signing the pledge. He personally told the writer the following story.

"During a visit to Liverpool I had a meeting appointed in the slums. When I went there I was accosted by a man who advised me to abandon the gathering as 'Hell Fire' had said he would break it up."

"Who is 'Hell Fire'?"

"Why, she's 'Big Sal.' She can whip any three policemen in the city and you would better desist."

I told him I hated to give up that way and he kindly suggested that if I was carried to the hotel with a broken nose and battered face not to blame him. I went in and surely enough; there on the front seat was the woman mentioned. My heart did misgive me a bit but I began my talk by saying, 'Dear friends; wasn't it kind in the Blessed Lord Jesus to come to earth and try so hard and suffer so much to help poor lost people like us here? He loves us all so much and He wants us to follow Him and try to do right.'

I proceeded in this manner and instead of breaking up the meeting the woman began to shed tears. At the close I said that all who wanted to follow this Dear Lord might come forward and sign here with me and Sarah came among the rest.

Some one plucked my sleeve and told me not to let her sign the paper for she wouldn't stick.

Sarah; they say you won't keep this pledge if you sign it. 'Show me the man' said she squaring herself for a fight.

I told her she was to rule by love and not by force in this case and she said she would. I saw as much of her as possible while in the city and then commending her to the Master went away. Years afterward I visited Liverpool again and hastened down to the slums and asked if any one knew of 'Hell Fire.'

"Hell Fire? I never heard of 'Hell Fire.'"

"Why 'Big Sal' who used to whip the police when they arrested her."

No one knew of any such person till finally some asked me if I mean Sarah who did use to be tough. I told him I guessed that was the one and then he said:

"Why, she's our guardian angel. She isn't a bit afraid of small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria or anything else. A person sick or in trouble sends for her before the doctor; why, we couldn't get along without Sarah."

I persevered till I found her and we had a happy meeting. She was indeed all the man said but she told me no one knew the awful struggles she had. Sometimes in the middle of the night the old appetite would come over her and she felt as if she must have a drink and in midwinter on the cold floor she would kneel and ask for strength to resist and it was given her.
